

CELEBRATE THE FOURTH IN TRUCKEE

SUN BEAMS

By WALTER M. BARRETT

Regardless of whether a person lives here or not, we feel that as long as they depend upon Truckee for a living they owe a certain amount of allegiance to the community and should show their respect by patronizing local concerns. We were informed the other day that a man who depends entirely upon Truckee for his support not only declined to patronize local businesses, but went out of his way to knock them. That, in our opinion, is not cricket.

The firemen are really "going to town" with their Fourth of July celebration. If you think it isn't a big job to arrange details for such a promising program, you should see the way those firemen rush here and there, devoting their own time and efforts to make the celebration a success. Without the cooperation of others, however, they would be lost and they report that on every hand they meet with wholehearted support from the businessmen and others who are pulling together to put over the program.

Next spring Truckee expects many thousands of tourists to pass through on their way to and from the big Golden Gate exposition in San Francisco. It should be the desire of each and every civic minded resident of Truckee to see that these visitors gain a good and lasting impression of this town. With little effort and expense, Truckee can be cleaned up and painted up and made ready for the most critical observer. But if we procrastinate until next year, we will be right where we are now and we hesitate to think what the impression on those thousands of visitors will be if they see some of the present eye-sores we have here.

Reckless Driver Is Fined $200 In Court After Trial

FACES LONG JAIL TERM

Wreck Results In Injuries To Bay Woman; Others Are Hurt

Found guilty by a jury in the local justice court of reckless driving, John A. Burgeson, 47, Wellington, Nevada, was fined $200 or sentenced to serve 100 days in the county jail yesterday morning.

Burgeson was arrested by State Traffic Sergeant Charles E. McKeen after the Nevada car had collided head-on with a machine driven by Arnold Helgeson of San Francisco, causing serious injuries to Mrs. Helgeson and badly injuring Peter Christenson, 27, a passenger in Burgeson's machine. The accident occurred near Soda Springs ten days ago.

District Attorney Vernon Stoll was here to handle the prosecution and Harry McKee of Nevada City was attorney for the defendant.

Several witnesses were called to testify that Burgeson was driving on the wrong side of the road. Questioned by Stoll, the defendant admitted he and his companion had not slept since 7 a. m. the day before the accident occurred about 10 a. m.

Justice of the Peace C. E. Smith presided at the trial.

SACRAMENTO, June 16. —(UP)—The Democrats seem to be having a tough time these days in their efforts to promote so called party harmony.

most popular Democratic candidate for the position. All the others would then be asked to shelve their aspirations and the party would swing behind the survivor in an effort to head off District Attorney Earl Warren of Alameda county.

Warren is a Republican but will seek both nominations, as well as the Progressive party endorsement.

Patrick J. Cooney, also a Democratic candidate for the position accused Jones of trying to nullify the state primary law with his proposed post card poll.

"In my 26 years of politics," Cooney said, "this is my first experience with a mail order form of primary and naturally I find it a trifle difficult to adjust myself to your bizarre proposal."

"The motives that inspired it are familiar enough and are completely in keeping with your political record. It is evident you are seeking to curry favor with Democratic voters by making a meaningless gesture in the name of party harmony.

"It is my recollection that in 1936 you ran for the assembly as a Republican, Democrat, and Prohibitionist and that you changed your own party registration from Republican to Democratic in July of 1932."

"I think you are being too impetuous about the whole affair. There will be a real poll on August 30 under the manner provided by the election laws of California and you may rest assured that everyone will get an honest count."

From this and a previous maneuver it is evident that Jones fully realizes the calibre of Warren's opposition.

Not so long ago the youthful speaker said he was considering an application to the supreme court to bar Warren from seeking both party nominations.

Warren, in fact, is conceded better than an even chance of moving into the $11,500 position which U. S. Webb will vacate this fall.

Experienced, capable and with a long record of aggressive prosecutions Warren's name is well known throughout the state.

While Cooney was belaboring Jones in fact, Warren pushed his campaign forward, asking for support on a non-partisan basis:

"I believe that ultimately the success or failure of our republic will depend upon the quality of our local and state governments," he said.

"The primary and greatest objective of any state government is to see that its laws, both civil and criminal, are adequately and fairly administered. In this field of state government, the attorney general is the most important public official. It is a job that transcends factional and partisan politics."

OUR GRADUATES

We may be overly optimistic, but when a public speaker, a man of high education and intelligent beyond the average, announces to a class of 17 and 18 year old students that regardless of their efforts or desires, they are likely bound for dismal failure, then we rise in indignation. There was perhaps a great deal of sordid truth in Prof. Tyler's graduation address before the local high school. The country, no doubt, is faced with economic, social and political crises. Maybe our very democracy is threatened. Without question jobs are hard to get and hold and there is more than a chance that the country may be drawn into another major war.

On the other hand is another picture and a prettier one. Since its inception, this country has been faced with many problems. Its citizens have fought vigorously and thus far, with few setbacks, right has prevailed and we have made progress. We would be difficult to convince that we are on the verge of a democratic overthrow or that opportunities do not still exist for those who have the ambition, the will and knowledge to forge ahead. It also for us to reason that we are on the verge of a great war.

We may be entirely wrong, but those students who graduated last week have, no doubt, lofty ideas and ideals. Most of these ideals will come far from being fulfilled. Regardless of that those young men young women have a right to believe they are emerging into a country fundamentally honest. They have a right to suspect that with diligent effort, hard work and opportunities equal to every other American citizen they may achieve that success which is the birthright of each citizen of this fine country. We cannot agree with a man, who has reached a certain degree of success himself, who says to the contrary. We do agree, however, with the only softening note of his address and that is that education is a great factor in achieving any success. We agree that high school education is not sufficient for many lines of endeavor, that higher learning is a vital necessity, but we disagree and most vigorously protest that this country is virtually devoid of opportunities or that we are faced on all sides with calamity. We sincerely trust we are not too optimistic.

DAD HAS HIS DAY

...He probably won't know it until he reads these lines, but Sunday, June 19, is set aside in his honor.

The occasion, the festivities, the gifts, are all for him.

A dinner may be tendered in his honor, and if it is, you may find him out in the kitchen helping shell the peas, or tinkering helpfully with the over regulator, so dinner will be ready on time.

A box of cigars may be offered him in greeting this Sunday afternoon, and if it is, one of the youngsters will first borrow his car and go down town after them and forget to bring the car back for two or three hours.

But after reading this far, he must know for sure that Sunday, June 19, is Father's Day. Even if the gifts of cigars and neckties aren't quite to his liking, he'll probably be glad and awfully pleased that you remembered.

ASSOCIATED STAMPS TO BE DISTRIBUTED AT LOCAL STATIONS

Natural wonders, beauty spots and historic interest points of this region will be extolled and given wide-spread publicity through the medium of Associated "Stamps of the West", which will be given free distribution at Smiling Associated Dealers through out the west, according to Myron Immer, distributor here.

These colorful and interesting graphic stamps depicting the outstanding points of interest in this vicinity are available only at Associated service stations beginning June 15. Likewise the first of 22 general subject stamps will be released on the same day, to be followed by distribution of the remaining stamps of the general group each Saturday thereafter for 21 weeks.

Vividly descriptive of the beauties and wonders to be found in this section of the west, the local subject stamps will receive widespread distribution, thereby publicizing this territory and stimulating tourist travel. These subject stamps are:

DONNER MONUMENT, erected on the shores of Donner Lake in the high Sierra, one mile west of Truckee, commemorating the courage of the valiant but ill-fated venturers who in the winter of 1846-47 became snowbound here, with 36 perishing from hunger and exposure. A few of the courageous party were rescued and taken to the Sacramento Valley.

GHOST TOWN is a symbol of a day when miners, adventurers and men in all walks of life peopled the streets of Whiskey Bar, Deadman's Gulch, Slumgullion and a score of such deserted places that now haunt the Mother Lode.

VIRGINIA CITY, famous Comstock mining town, provided western history with one of its most exciting chapters when the first great silver strike was made on Sun Mountain in 1859. By 1863 there were some 40,000 men with "mining fever" on this Nevada mountainside.

LAKE TAHOE, mile high lake in the lap of snow-capped, forest-clad mountains, is 75 miles around, 22 miles long and 12 miles wide. Its depth in many places has never been sounded. Shared by both California and Nevada, it is a world famous recreation spot.

Simultaneous free distribution of Associated's 48 page stamp book to the motoring public at all Associated stations, offers an opportunity for permanent collection of the artistic stamps which cover 100 diversified subjects of the west. The books contain space for each stamp, noting the release dates and location where obtainable, as well as fully descriptive printed legend of each stamp subject.

Trained Canine Meets Trains At Cape Horn To Get Newspapers

Although he is not one of Southern Pacific's advertised attractions, "Picnic", the "dog that meets all passenger trains" at Cape Horn, five miles east of Colfax, is among the most interesting sights on the ride over the Sierra.

No trains have scheduled stops at Cape Horn, which is a station in name only, and it cannot be reached by highway. The sole inhabitants are Bartolo Speranza, railroad section foreman and his wife and members of the maintenance of way crew.

Living by themselves isn't so bad for "Bart", as the foreman is known, and for the boys, for they do a lot of traveling in keeping up roadbed and rails on their section of the line, even though it is only 4.2 miles long. But Mrs. Speranza's field of action is limited to her home and its small garden, on the railroad's right-of-way.

Which sets the stage for the entrance of Picnic in the role of special aid to his mistress in her urge to keep abreast of the times.

The Speranzas, you see, found out long ago that radio reception couldn't be depended upon in their locality. Instead, they rely upon the written word, mostly in newspapers and magazines, to keep them informed and with the cooperation of conductors and brakemen on passing trains they receive large daily supplies of reading matter.

In former years, Mrs. Speranza would drop here house work to meet the trains and pick up parcels tossed at her feet by the friendly trainmen. But that was when the family pet was a dachshund who never got over the idea that his place was in the home.

Two and a half years ago Picnic (Mrs. Speranza says the name means little in Italian) joined the Cape Horn household, the gift of "Hap" Bradley, a Southern Pacific freight conductor, working out of Roseville. Then about one year old, the dog was thought to be part shepherd, and that's as much as anyone knows about his family tree.

But this much is certain—Picnic isn't lazy and never was. Ever since he went to live with the Speranzas he has tried faithfully to earn his board and room. It was impressed upon him in the beginning that he couldn't follow Bart and the boys on the job, so he had to look for ways to serve his mistress. Each time she left the house to pick up papers thrown from the trains, Picnic would accompany her, and in no time he saw what was to be done and in his eloquent way told Mrs. Speranza he'd take over the job, and be glad to.

So it is in the role of courier that Picnic now takes greatest pride. Even before passenger trains whistle for Cape Horn he knows they are due and is waiting to gather parcels. He carries home a great variety of

Picnic is known to most of the passenger trainmen who operate over the Sierra, and onw and then receives a present of a bundle of bones with the compliments of the dining inquiry into charges of corruption in the California legislature with the testimony of John Dondero of Berkeley, blind attorney, that he was offered $1,000 to withdraw from the state board of equalization race against incumbent Fred E. Stewart and file for state senator.

Dondero's testimony named two Sacramento liquor dealers as the persons who made the offers. Both denied the money was offered as an inducement to withdraw from any race; contended it represented a campaign contribution for Dondero's state senate fight.

When the grand jury resumes the proceedings next week, Babcock said he will present other matters in which Assemblman William Hornblower of San Francisco was concerned as a lawyer legislator.

The prosecutor will ask the assemblyman's indictment on a charge of accepting $2,500 to accomplish the defeat of a measure injurious to commercial sardine fishing. It is Hornblower's contention the sum was for legal fees.

PATROLMAN WALKER RETURNS TO KEEP TAHOE ROADS SAFE

TAHOE CITY, June 16.—Traffic Patrolman F. E. (Gene) Walker, who patrolled the highways in the Rocklyn district this winter, returned to be regular patrol in the Tahoe district for the summer season on Thursday. He will make his home this year with his niece and nephews on property formerly owned by his father behind old Tamarack Lodge.

That his services were badly needed here is evidenced by the fact that on the day of his arrival four arrests were made with two traffic violators apprehended on Friday. On Sunday Jack Kaylor of Graeagle was arrested for driving without an operator's license; William Dunn of Grass Valley was tagged for reckless driving; Sam Landesberg was arrested for leaving a vegetable truck parked two nights on the highway and E. K. Jenkins was cited for speeding in town. All cases were set for hearing before Judge George Bliss.

Patrolman Walker, renowned for his oblivion to fear or favor in the maintenance of law and order on the local highways has issued stern warnings to motorists to observe carefully all rules and regulations. Speeders and reckless drivers will be prosecuted and special impetus will be given glaring headlights and passing on blind curves and hills.

CURTAILMENT OF U. S. FUNDS TO DELAY STATE ROAD WORK

SACRAMENTO, June 16.—(UP)—Highway and road construction in California for the 1940-1941 period will be curtailed but not as much as was first threatened by the reduction in federal allocations for such work, Earl Lee Kelly, state director of public works, announced.

The State of California will be apportioned nearly $5,000,000 less than in the previous two-year period in all four classes of work under the federal highway aid act of 1933 which was signed by President Roosevelt last week.

The figures compiled by A. E. Reynolds of the state department showed that: For the 1938-39 period California received a total of $15,448,033 for all four phases of highway work and in 1940-41 it will receive $10,570,000.

California was apportioned more than $9,593,488 for regular federal aid highway construction in 1938-39. Under the terms of the 1933 act it will receive slightly less than $8,000,000.

Slightly less than $2,000,000 was given the state in 1938-39 for work on secondary roads, while for the 1940-41 period approximately only $1,000,000 will be granted.

In the third class, that of elimination of dangers at road crossings, in 1938-39 the state received more than $3,000,000 and in 1940-41 it will receive only half that amount, $1,850,000.

In the fourth class, that of public domain, in 1938 the state received $225,638 and in 1940 it will receive only $80,000 and $180,000 in 1941.

Reynolds explained the department did not handle these funds in 1938-39 but will do so in the next two year period. Amounts received by California in 1939 for this work were not available but Reynolds added that the state received some money for this work in that year.

Funds received for this work from the federal government, with the exception of that received for public domain work, must be matched by state funds, Reynolds said. The government gives approximately 58 per cent while the state provides about 48 per cent, he said.

Reynolds added that contracts for highway construction have already been awarded in most cases and that the state will be waiting for the additional funds to carry on in 1940-41.

TREASURER JOHNSON ANNOUNCES SELF AS SEEKING POST

State Treasurer Charles G. Johnson this week filed as a candidate for the office of state treasurer on the Republican and Democratic tickets. "The state treasury," Johnson said, "has always been nonpartisan in administration and personnel for which reason I am a candidate on both major party tickets."

As state treasurer for 16 years, Johnson has earned over $25,000,000 for the taxpayers of California by obtaining the highest rate of interest on state idle funds. He is recognized as a practical economist and authority on state finance and taxation whose record justifies public confidence.

DISEASE IN TREES TO BE FOUGHT THIS YEAR BY BIG CREW

SACRAMENTO, June 16.—(UP)—Three thousand men will be enrolled in the fight against the invasion of pine blister rust in California within the next three weeks.

Priceless stands of sugar pine in the Sierra Nevada and Siskiyou mountains are threatened by the tree disease.

Regional Forester S. B. Shaw said 2000 WPA workers and 1000 CCC workers will be enlisted. Mainly the work will consist of eradicating all currant and gooseberry bushes in the threatened areas. These bushes carry the rotting blister from tree to tree. California's stand of sugar pine covers 2,000,000 acres and has a

Air View Of Tulare Inundated

Crumbling dikes and raging rivers fed by melting snow in the mountains have brought such scenes as this to the Tulare Lake area near Corcoran, Cal., where hundreds of men have been battling to save valuable farm lands. This aerial view shows one farmer's home and barns virtually afloat.

Purchasers of Property From Old Age Pensioners May Pay State On Deal

SACRAMENTO, June 16.—(UP)—Possibility that persons who have bought property from old age pensioners may be required to clear their title—by reimbursing the state for aid given the pensioners—was seen in an opinion rendered by Attorney General U. S. Webb.

The opinion had been requested by District Attorney Earl Redwine of Riverside county, following a state supreme court decision that the 1937 legislative act, cancelling liens on pensioners' property, is unconstitutional. The court also ruled that liens already given cannot be cancelled, holding such action constitutes a gift of public property.

Purpose of the lien was to give the state some return from the pensioners' estates on their death.

PHARMACY WEEK IS PROCLAIMED BY GOVERNOR MERRIAM

SACRAMENTO, June 16.—(UP)—Gov. Frank F. Merriam last week proclaimed the week of June 19 as Pharmacy Week in the state of California.

Its real value is inestimable, however. The pine trees form a soil protection covering to the mountain sides. Their loss would lead to soil erosion, loss of wild life and serious interference with water conservation. The eradication program will occupy at least all of this summer.

INDIAN WAR BOND IS PAID FROM OLD FUND OF STATE

SACRAMENTO, June 16.—(UP)—State Controller Harry B. Riley recently authorized payment of an Indian War bond issued in 1857 by the state for "horse hire."

Almost as strange as the appearance of an eighty year old bond was the fact the state has a fund out of which to pay off the bonds.

The federal government had agreed to pay off the bonds for the war against obstreperous Indian tribes, and five years later a separate fund was established in California to pay off the bond issue.

ROAD IN AUBURN TO BE REROUTED TO ELIMINATE CURVES

Assurance has been given the City of Auburn that within the next year the state highway commission will reroute U. S. No. 40, the main highway running through that city, according to the touring department of the National Automobile Club.

The change will be made to eliminate several curves and a dangerously narrow subway at the entrance of the city.

The city will refund the right of way while the grading is to be done by the WPA.

The governor said: "The value of any business enterprise is, in the last analysis, dependent on the service it is able to provide for the citizens of its community, the state and nation."

"We owe a debt of gratitude and a word of appreciation for the valuable asset and helpful service of the neighborhood pharmacist."

FIRST IN RACE

Harry L. Englebright, Republican congressman from this district and a resident of Nevada County, filed his nomination papers and filing fee with the secretary of state to become the first congressional candidate in California to qualify for election. Englebright is the incumbent.

Frank Buck, Vacaville Congressman, qualified later the same day for reelection in the 3rd district.

Both men seek both major nominations. Englebright is unopposed while Buck has a Sacramento educator out for the G. O. P. nod.

APPOINTED ON BOARD

SACRAMENTO, June 16.—(UP)—Appointment of Dr. Peter S. MacCallum as a member of the state athletic commission has been announced by Governor Frank F. Merriam.

Dr. MacCallum replaces Francis A. Cochran of Sacramento. The latter is secretary to the governor.

Dr. MacCallum is a graduate of the University of Southern California and was active in boxing while attending the university.

He was formerly treasurer of the Young Republicans Club of California.

narrow subway at the entrance of the city.

The city will refund the right of way while the grading is to be done by the WPA.

POLITICALLY SPEAKING

In connection with Warren's last statement, it is worth noting that recent legislative changes actually have elevated the attorney generalship to one of the most powerful posts in the state government. Indeed, comparable to the governorship in ranking.

Under present laws the attorney general is the chief law enforcement officer of the state. He has funds and authority to come into any county in an investigation and take it over if he desires or is requested to.

And so the Jones gesture may take rank with that of State Democratic Central Committee Chairman Arlyle Campbell, who also asked party harmony in the race for the Democratic nomination for governor.

Campbell began with a White House conference, attended by J. F. T. O'Connor, former federal comptroller and a Bourbon candidate for the governorship.

But if the inference intended was to convey to the rest of the field that the President was behind O'Connor, the move was a failure. No word of benediction has been forthcoming.

Later in Fresno Campbell again asked that various contenders rally behind one of their number. But he could hardly be heard above the indignant comments of the entries. Each announced his firm intention of remaining in the race. Jones, from all appearances, might as well save the postage by forgetting his post card poll.

anced budget by the end of the current biennium in June, 1939.

The $170,000,000 Central Valley Water and Power project, proposed as a permanent solution to California's twin problems of summer water storages and winter floods, moved toward realization when Pacific Constructors, Inc., of Los Angeles, submitted the low bid to build Shasta dam near the headwaters of the Sacramento river.

The firm bid $35,939,450. Only two bids were received at the federal bureau of reclamation. The second, $36,202,357, was offered by the Shasta Construction company of San Francisco.

Construction on the key unit of the undertaking is scheduled to begin in 30 days after official notice from the U. S. government concerning award of the contract. Materials will be furnished by the government, the successful contractor supplying the labor and equipment. Terms allow 2000 calendar days to complete the dam.
